Dear grandma,

It's a beautiful winter's eve here with crisp snow on the trees & mountains, and my little wood stove just puffing away, keeping out the cold air outside. I'm living in a schoolbus fixed up into a very nice camper. I'll be here ~~for~~ until I leave for my trip to Europe in March. I've been keeping busy this winter. I've started a braided wool rug & an embroidery sampler. I'm also reading lots of good books. I got some really good ones for Christmas: one about plumbing, one on wiring, one about making baskets and one called a complete guide to Needlework that teaches everything from crochet to lace-making. My favorite gift though was a card from Mom & Dad which said they had donated money in my name to the Cambodian Refugees.

I'm planning to stop in N.Y. on my way back from Europe, sometime this summer. I look forward to seeing you!

all my love, Karen
